

3rd Grade News
St. Albert the Great Catholic School
October 23-October 26

Mrs. Daane kdaane@stalbertreno.org 747-3392 ext.5625

A note from the teacher...

Dear Families,

We have another busy week this week! Book reports were due today and we started the presentations this afternoon with class numbers 1-10. Class numbers 11-20 will present tomorrow, and 21-30 will present Wednesday afternoon. Presentations will start at 1:45.

Due to the short week, we will not be having spelling this week. That means no spelling test and no packet will be due on Thursday. We will use the class time we usually use for spelling to work on a Nevada project, since Nevada Day is next week.

In Core Knowledge/Science, we will be reading about mammals and reviewing the other animal characteristics we have learned about. We will have a unit test on Thursday of this week.

We did not get to verbs last week, so we will start learning about them this week. We are still working on using descriptive words and adjectives in our spooky stories that we started last week.

The Religion chapter 5 test is going to be tomorrow.

We started Unit 3 in math. This week we are going to shift gears and focus on measuring length and liquid volume. IXL math homework will be to complete at least 30 minutes by Thursday. Math homework pages will be sent home on Monday and Wednesday nights this week.

I have sent home the final schedule for conferences. Please let me know if something does not look right. Also, please return field trip permission slips and money. The cost is $5 each for both students and adult chaperones. Our field trip is next Monday, Oct. 30.

Ten Reading counts points are due by Thursday!

Tests this week:

Monday-

Tuesday-
Religion ch.5

Wed.-

Thurs.-Math

Fri.-

Fri.-

Lessons for the week... Mark your calendars...

Spelling—No spelling this week

Math—Measuring inches, liquid volume (customary and metric)

Reading/Science— Traits of mammals and review

Religion—Chapter 5—Jesus shows us how to forgive and heal—test tomorrow

Writing/grammar—Descriptive adjectives, verbs

10/23-Book Reports due—Students will be presenting books reports this week—parents are invited!

10/26-Halloween Party—End of 1st quarter—parade starts at 1:15 and the party is after

10/27-No school

10/30-Field trip to Andeline Farms

11/6-Conference Week Begins

Please return the blue handout I sent home making any necessary changes to your information for the class directory! We are still waiting for a few to return!

Check your email and look for the sign up genie to contribute to our Halloween party this Thursday!

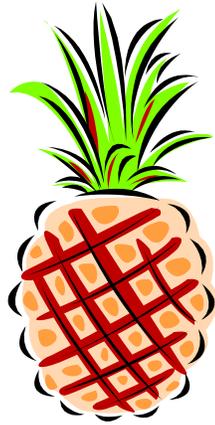

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a

Caption describing picture or graphic.

calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you’re finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you’re trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

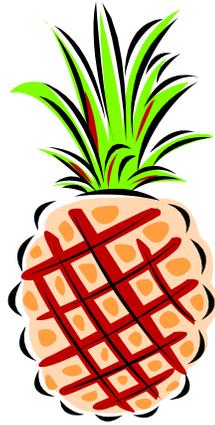

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a

Caption describing picture or graphic.

calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you’re finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you’re trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Mrs. Daane
Kdaane@stalbertcatholicschoolren
o.org

Primary Business Address
Your Address Line 2
Your Address Line 3
Your Address Line 4

Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555
Email: xyz@microsoft.com

Your business tag line here.

We're on the Web!
example.microsoft.co m

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

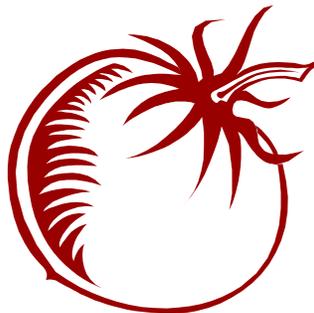

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.

Caption describing picture or graphic.