Current Events due Thursday

Elizabeth F. Ariston
Sophia J. Chance
Patrick

Thanks to all of you that attended Back to School Night. It was great to see familiar faces and meet new families. Aren't we lucky to be here?

Math

Go Math, Chapter 1 continues. Supplementing with IXL at home will also be a part of homework this week. 1/2 hour total, by Friday morning. They have lessons written in their planner.

Religion

They're finishing up the Unit 1 test as a worksheet in class. SLE and Beatitude skits continue.

Science

Cells and body systems, pages A2-27 in the textbook, continues. Reading the material at home is encouraged. We're working together in class on a corresponding packet that I hope to finish mid week.

Social Studies

States and capitals continue. They'll be given blank US maps to practice for a states test. State reports are due tomorrow (most turned them in early!). Our first chapter in the SS text covers 'America's Land' - we'll start this week. This material should also be reinforced by reading it at home, pages 4-33 in the textbook. They also have some questions to ask you tonight about September 11, 2001. They should write 7-10 sentences about your responses in their homework notebook.

ELA (English Language Arts)

Writer Workshop

"Pet Perspective" is due on September 19th. The paper must be typed, Times New Roman, size 12 font. Your help with proof-reading is appreciated.

My Access WILL happen his week:-) prayers, please.

Spelling

Unit 4 and a test on Friday.

Vocabulary

Unit 2 test is on Wednesday.

Heads up...It looks like ACT/Aspire testing for 5th grade is October 8-18. I'll confirm as soon as possible.

"Advice from a tree: stand tall and proud, go out a limb, remember your roots, drink plenty of water, be content with your natural beauty, enjoy the view. "

Kidscape started on Friday and runs for five more weeks.

Several grades are posted in Fastdirect. If you've misplaced your password, please contact Miss Lisa.

We'll be discussing class representatives for student council this week-stay tuned.

The best way to contact me is via email-cnoonan@stalbertreno.org

We've talked a lot about Reading Counts. Please ask your child to show you the test taking tips written in their planners.

Inside Story Headline

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Your business tag line here.

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

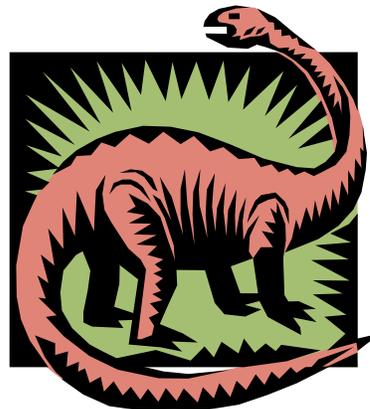

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.
